Feeling angry

It's okay to feel this way. You can say it however it comes out — no judgment here.

How intense is this feeling? Optional

1 · A little 7 10 · A lot

This just helps the conversation start in the right place. It isn't a measurement of anything.

Angry

Today · Nothing here is saved

I'm so angry! Everyone is irritating me!

That sounds really frustrating. What happened?

My manager insulted me in front of the whole team!

That must have been difficult. Do you want to tell me what happened?

I hate everything today!

It sounds like a lot has built up today. I'm listening.

Sad
I'm here. Whenever you're ready, what's been on your mind?
I don't know. Just feeling really low lately.
That sounds heavy. Has something changed recently, or has it been building for a while?
My best friend moved away last month and everything feels empty.
I couldn't reach the server just now. Your message is still here — nothing was lost.

Leave

I'm so tired of everything. I don't know how to keep going.

It sounds like you're carrying something really heavy right now, and I'm glad you said it here. I'm an AI, so I can't be with you the way a person can — but there are people who can, right now.
